

The RCCC was established in 1993 and is comprised of a diverse group of dedicated volunteers. For the past 24 years the RCCC is proud to have organized the annual César Chávez Day march and celebration. This year the RCCC is also hosting a youth day of Service Learning at La Plazita Gardens, Bernalillo County Open Space, located on Lopez and Arenal in the South Valley of Albuquerque on Friday, March 31st, from 9am to 1:30pm.

This day of service is an opportunity for elementary and middle school students to participate in hands on farm education, social justice related education, and community service. Students will gain new skills, a better understanding of sustainable agriculture, and learn about the importance of farming within a community.

Call for Volunteers!

In order to make this Day of Service run smoothly, we are looking for volunteers to assist with a variety of activities ranging from parking to helping student groups navigate the farm site and the various educational stations. Volunteers will be able to sign up for activities that they are most interested in but may be asked to help with other tasks if needed.

A free lunch will be provided at the conclusion of the Day of Service. Volunteers will be asked to arrive between 7:30 and 8am on the Day of Service. The event will conclude at 1:30 pm.

If you want to volunteer we will ask you to attend the volunteer orientation Sunday March 26th 3pm-5pm where you will be oriented to the space and learn about your volunteer role.
